

Radiation Oncology Aspiring Scientists and Physicians Program

For undergraduate, graduate and medical students, especially from groups underrepresented in medicine and science.

Sunday, October 1, 2023
11:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Pacific time

Meet radiation oncology faculty, residency program directors, residents and students on their career journey and learn more about the field of radiation oncology as you consider your career options. Registration to this event is complimentary. Parking vouchers will be provided to students who attend the ASP program.

Register for free at www.astro.org/aspreq
The ASPP event is offered in-person and as a virtual program. We highly recommend in-person attendance for students to participate in the hands-on demonstrations offered as part of the program.

Early registration closes on September 13, 2023
